Letters from the Chairs

Hello, welcome, and thank you for coming!

I want to thank the staff that worked so hard to make SNAFU awesome, and who bring amazing new things to the table all the time. I want all the volunteers that helped before, and those who will work this year, to know that we greatly appreciate it. To our guests of honor, vendors, artists, staff and volunteers, and everyone else attending: SNAFU was made to bring you all together! I do hope you are enjoying yourselves. For those of you who aren't, well why not?! Come on! You're at the largest gathering in the Sierra Nevadas of like-minded nerds, otaku, geeks, gamers, et cetera. Personally, it was at a small event years ago that I met some of my best friends and found out who my real friends were. I hope you can make some connections of your own, learn new things, and, most important of all, have fun! Or else ... we'll be sad. D= So have fun, and when you look back on SNAFU Con 2011, I hope it's one of the best times of your year, or life!

Nathan Sindar
SNAFU Con Chairman

Hello Fellow Otaku!

It's been a crazy year getting ready for this convention! I want to thank everyone for their patience with the new registration system. It's still a work in progress. I also want to express how thrilled I am that the convention is finally upon us. We've fixed a lot of things we felt we did wrong last year, made many more mistakes along the way, and have persevered. So thank you to all the people who make this convention possible! Our staff pour their heart and souls into this convention with hardly any compensation beyond a free badge and a 'thank you.'

And don't forget that you, dear reader, are one of those people which make this possible. I do this for you. If you see me around the con, please don't tell me to get sleep. I won't listen anyway. =D

So I want you to go out there and have some crazy fun, and I'll see you in the hentai room! ... if you're old enough. <3

Dear Con-Goers,

As a programming director and vice chair, it gives me pleasure and deep fuzzy feelings to welcome all of you to our convention. For all the guff about chairs and directors and the all the other many titles I have acquired while working with this convention the one I am proudest of is 'fan.' And you are fellow con goers, fans, friends, and the occasional arch-nemesis, you are the reason that we do this. So, to every single one of you, thanks for your continued support of our con.

Despite the difficulties we've had this year, your interest and desire kept us going. As our director of programming, I'd like to thank everyone who lent a hand to this convention. Now, now, enough of my gushing over how wonderful you are. Go out and enjoy yourselves.

Sincerely,
Michael "Gopher" McCraven
Vice-Chair, Director of Programming, and Generally Hoopy Frood

P.S. I do know where my towel is.

Chocobo grew up playing video games. Steve remembers popping in Super Mario Brothers and from the moment that first note played, he was hooked.

Steve wanted to learn to play piano so he could recreate the melodic tones he heard. Being too poor for piano lessons, Steve taught himself to play the piano without using his thumbs. Steve is also a talented LDS "Mormon" singer and lyricist with his parody group, "They Might Be Elders".

Steve is now breaking into the Voice Acting scene with credits for Video Games, and his latest role as the narrator in the Full Cast Audiobook Series, "Prophecy of the Flame".

Robert Wiese

has been playing D&D since 1978 after he watched a game played in the car on the way home from a Boy Scouts meeting. He was fascinated, and delved into this strange world of dragons and magic and sourcebooks. Years later, he was hired to edit tournaments for the RPGA Network, and from there progressed to running the network after his boss was assassinated in the great Christmas purge of 1996. Eventually he met a girl who liked to play D&D too, and he left Renton for the warmth and casinos of Reno, Nevada. Now, he works in the Pharmacology department of UNR studying mouse foot muscles and the effects of RF emissions on same. He spends as much time as possible with his wife Rhonda, son Owen, and daughter Rebecca.

Lynn Hardy Led by a series of dreams and encouraged by friends, Lynn Hardy began the journey to become an author. She stored her work in a computer file labeled “second job.” Writing began as a passion she could not contain and has become much more than she ever expected.

In reality, Lynn is overcome with compassion for families who are suffering through the recession and so she has created Agape Assistance. Knowing that times are hard for everyone, Lynn wants to give back to those who join Agape Assistance in providing shelter for families who are homeless. Buying Book One will provide a book for you and a bed for them. 100% of the proceeds from Prophecy of the Flame: Book One goes to Agape Assistance.

The road has been longer and more complicated than she would have ever guessed--not always smooth, but filled with wonderful surprises. Like most stories, Lynn is sure that her journey has only just begun.

Cosplay Guests of Honor

WindoftheStars is an internationally renowned costume designer, re-creator and cosplay model that has made over 50 elaborate award-winning costumes since 2004.

Gaining inspirations from the things she loves, many of her works are recreations from anime, manga, video games, movies, TV series and pop culture, but of course she also tries to find time to create her own wearable works of art. To her, each costume is like a puzzle that requires many technical skills that are in turn shared with the community through online tutorials and panels.

She has also had the privilege of being a judge for several costume competitions throughout California. Her works have been featured in many online interviews and articles such as 91.8 The Fan Radio and NerdBastards.com, and has appeared in COSMODE and CosplayMIX.

Dr Hikaru first started cosplaying at Anime Expo 2000 and has traveled to cons across the nation and Japan. In the last 11 years she has won awards in Craftsmanship and Performance, including Best in Show as well as Master Craftsmanship.

While she started out as an avid cosplayer, Dr Hikaru is also known as a gamer, photographer and all-around geek. Her portfolio includes collaborations with LimeBarb, Cupcake Cosplay, Lady Ava, Dreamlandtea, Raginite Photography, DeathCom Multimedia, iPLAY, WindoftheStars, iCosplay and MoonlessGarden. She has been featured in CosMode and ACParadise among other cosplay publications and has also been interviewed for Wired Magazine for her Final Fantasy fandom.

Paper Hearts Cosplay began in 2005 when cosplayers Daydreamnessa, and Kasou started cosplaying together. Since then they have created many works together, and take pride in taking on challenging cosplay projects together, from large props, to armor, to detailed cloth construction, nothing stops them from executing there cosplays.

Not only do they take on the challenge of costume construction, but also forming small and large groups of cosplayers from far and wide to put on performances for cosplay masquerades.

Some notable groups they have put together are, Record of Lodoss Wars, Guilty Gear, and Magic Knight Rayearth, in which they have won, advanced construction awards, as well as performance awards.
